

Our Real Bride Jenna's Tips On How To Enjoy The Day !

- Do not try to finish any DIY projects the night before. I contemplated it but you will drive yourself mad!
- Get sufficient sleep the night before.
- Give yourself plenty of time in the morning. Having the hairdresser and makeup artist come to you will assist with this
- We had a large wedding, almost 300 guests. If that is the case for you too then remember you cannot possibly walk around to talk to each guest member. It's your day, spend it how you like. We took a few minutes out every few hours to spend some time having a drink on our own outside of the venue to chat about the day so far.
- Eat, yes you will hear others saying this but it is so important. We had sandwiches on the way to the venue in the car and it tied us over until dinner.
- Really consider this when purchasing shoes, I didn't! What I did do was bring a spare pair of substantially lower shoes with me and changed into those in the evening. I also ended up changing my dress to a shorter white lace dress which was much more comfortable to dance in once the disco came on!
